SEPTEMBER 11 – 12, 2021

A WEEKEND OF SERVING OTHERS

Deacon's Corner

"For such a time as this" is a common phrase that comes out of the story of Queen Esther. In its context, Esther is called to do something very risky – approach the king on behalf of the Jews without being requested. This action carried a potential death penalty. Queen Esther was, in various ways, uniquely positioned for this need. After he revealed the plot for Jewish genocide, her uncle Mordecai tells her, "Perhaps you have come to royal dignity for such a time as this."

Throughout scripture, we meet people uniquely positioned in time to put love and faith into action.

Joseph and his dream interpretation.

Job and his faithfulness.

The young boy and his fish and bread.

Paul and his way with words.

My recent sabbatical was focused on diaconal ministry throughout history, and where this ministry of service finds itself right now. There are two common threads woven throughout the history of this ministry of service.

First, the ministry of service is the work of the whole people of God. ALL people are called to put love and faith into action through service. God calls every one of us, not just Deacons and Pastors, to use the resources we have to love our neighbors. This is most clearly seen with the young boy's offering of fish and bread to feed the hungry crowd. The boy has only his lunch – he doesn't even have a name in the story – but he has more than enough for such a time as this. Ministry of service is using our time, gifts, money, or power to serve our neighbor.

Secondly, this ministry of service is deeply contextual, meaning it is defined by what is needed at a particular time. In the days of the early church, the role of deaconess emerged as women prepared other women for baptism by washing their bodies. It was an inappropriate job for men to do, so the women served this need. Later on, deaconesses were the nurses who cared for the ill and the teachers who taught children. When it comes to our own lives, the way we serve someone in need is distinct. Loving a widow is different than loving a child in CPS (Child Protective Services) care. Loving a soldier with PTSD (Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder) differs from loving a person stranded on the roadway. Whether it is masks or meals, yard work or an errand, ministry of service is defined by what is needed at that particular moment.

Queen Esther listened and bravely answered God's call at a particular moment in Jewish history. God will call you (and me) to diaconal ministry, to ministry of service throughout our lives. Following Queen Esther's example of love and courage, I pray that you continually answer God's call to serve "for such a time as this."

ALL
people
are called to put love and faith
into action through service.

WELCOME
BACK, Deacon
Chris!

President's Perspective

Greetings, Members of TLC,

I always like to think that September starts the downhill part of the year, that we have made it through another summer, and autumn is our reward. I always feel that the cooler weather and, of course, football season are the rewards, but that may just be me. Though in many ways, the climb is just starting! I thought we would all be in a different place and life would simplify a bit come September, but here we are continuing through this crazy year. In many ways things have calmed down, but in many other ways they are still quite challenging.

The Council continues to do the work we were elected to do despite the roller coaster we find ourselves on. My last email to the congregation outlined our plans as we continue to adjust our protocols to fit the current Covid-19 circumstances. We will continue to do so while moving forward with the many activities we are all accustomed to enjoying, including Oktoberfest. Since the beginning of the year, one of Council's goals was to focus on Fellowship opportunities. This has been a challenge, but I believe we will continue to find creative ways to spend time together to continually grow our understanding of Christ's message and really just be together as a church community. This is what can sustain us no matter what challenges we face —and we have been facing a lot. So for this month, I find 2 Corinthians 4:16 to be a verse worth remembering: "therefore we do not lose heart, but though our outer man is decaying, our inner man is renewed day by day."

We still have a lot to do this year and we will reach our goals together. I ask that you keep finding ways to serve, keep reaching out to those that may be looking for a new church, and keep hope as we continue working together — oh, and happy football season , GIG'EM!

Many Blessings,

John Gallo

Early Childhood Programs
Jennifer Feutz

Starting September 7, preschool is back in session at Triumphant. We have 58 little souls who will be a part of our ministry growing in God's love. The classes will range from ages 18 months to Pre-K. Please keep the staff, students, and their families in your prayers as we launch into the new school year. Jesus loves the little children and so do we! Visit our website for information on Preschool classes and registration, and Mother's Day Out preparations. I trust that everyone who participated in our Church Picnic and/or Independence Day Ice Cream Social enjoyed the food and fellowship. Getting together is so much fun!

The Congregational Life team is looking forward to bringing more food, fellowship, and fun your way in the months to come.

Thank you to all who helped set up, serve, or clean up after these very enjoyable events. We also thank everyone who brought toppings for the ice cream social. Next time, we'll be sure to include some sugar free options.

We recently celebrated back-to-school with treat bags for teachers and mini cupcakes for all. Backpack tags were provided by TLC.

We also had a very lovely funeral and meal in remembrance of Charles Snyder (see page 7). This special man will certainly be missed. Thank you to the bakers who provided delicious desserts and to our servers at the funeral reception. We have some terrific volunteers at TLC.

We would like for members to continue to bring snacks for our Sunday morning coffee fellowship. If you miss your week, feel free to just bring something another time.

UPDATE TO COVID SAFETY PROTOCOLS

The Church Council recently updated our Covid Safety Protocols to make sure we are providing the safest possible environment for worship and other church activities. Here are the updates:

- ⇒ Indoor activities: Masks are mandatory for those who are unvaccinated, and HIGHLY encouraged for those who are vaccinated. This is for all indoor church activities, including Worship and Wednesday Night Live.
- ⇒ The 5:00pm Service is a mask-required service for all attendees.
- ⇒ Communion is at the rail with appropriate social distancing. Communion kits are available at check-in for those who prefer communion at their seats.
- ⇒ We will continue check-in when you enter for worship services.
- ⇒ All ushers, greeters, and worship leaders are required to wear a mask.
- ⇒ Outdoor activities: Masks are optional for outdoor activities, including outdoor worship services.
- ⇒ Our other protocols are still in place.

Charles Edward Snyder, Jr.

June 19, 1935

- August 8, 2021

Charles E. Snyder, Jr., 86, passed away at his residence on Sunday, August 8, 2021. He was the beloved husband of Betty Lynn Snyder, to whom he was married for 54 years.

In addition to his wife, Charles is survived by his daughter, Elizabeth Abraham (David) of Cibolo, Texas; his son, Matthew Snyder (Crystal) of Souderton, Pennsylvania; Matthew's children: Matthew, Jr., Kayla, and Aiden; and Beth's children: Khrystyna, Lauren, and Joseph.

Born in Milton, Pennsylvania, he was a 1953 graduate of Milton High School. He went on to earn a Bachelor of Science Degree in Library Education in 1969 and Master of Science Degree in Library Science in 1972 from Kutztown State College in Kutztown, Pennsylvania.

Charles served for 30 years in the Pennridge High School District in Perkasio, Pennsylvania, mostly as a high school librarian. He was also a long-time member of Trinity Lutheran Church, where he sang in the choir, was involved with the puppet ministry, and served as an assistant minister, youth advisor, church librarian, and Sunday School teacher. He also held various church council positions. Charles was also civic-minded. He was an avid volunteer at Pearl S. Buck International, filling many roles including tour guide, librarian, and book club moderator. He was also deeply involved in the Pearl S. Buck Volunteer Association. In addition, Charles was an active member of the Church and Synagogue Library Association, where he was a book review editor, president, vice president, and secretary, and led book workshops every year at the district and national conferences.

Charles and Betty Lynn relocated to Schertz and joined the Triumphant family in 2017. They have both been an active part of the congregation and choir. Charles will be greatly missed by all who knew him!

We Grow in Christ to Serve Others

Active Servanthood

By Ken Smith

The Servant Song

By Richard Gillard

© 1977, Universal Music - Brentwood Benson Publishing

Will you let me be your servant, let me be as
Christ to you?
Pray that I may have the grace to let you be my servant, too.

We are pilgrims on a journey, we are travelers on the road.
We are here to help each other walk the mile and bear the load.

I will hold the Christ-light for you in the nighttime of your fear.
I will hold my hand out to you, speak the peace
you long to hear.

I will weep when you are weeping, when you laugh, I'll laugh with you.
I will share your joy and sorrow till we've seen this journey through.

When we sing to God in heaven, we shall find
such harmony,
Born of all we've known together of Christ's love
and agony.

Will you let me be your servant, let me be as
Christ to you?
Pray that I may have the grace to let you be my
servant, too.

I was recently reminded of this sweet hymn. While it has always spoken to my heart, this fresh exposure also represents Stephen Ministry to me.

One of the basic tenets of Stephen Ministry is to serve – to “be as Christ” to others. We bring Jesus’ love, compassion, kindness, peace, and presence into hurting situations. We “hold the Christ-light for you in the nighttime of your fear,” walking alongside through the journey, providing Kleenex and a shoulder to cry on, reminding you of Biblical promises and God’s attributes, all covered in the prayers we pray with and for you.

Servanthood in our current culture doesn’t exactly have an elevated or positive view. The primary concern is more on our own personal happiness, comfort, and self-fulfillment rather than growing in the character and qualities of Jesus, serving Him and pleasing God. The heart of Christianity (knowing and loving God) is to fulfill that relationship and resource as servants to Christ’s example and in the power of the Holy Spirit.

What’s servanthood? The state, condition, or quality of one who’s under submission to another. For Christians, that is submission to God first and then to one another. It’s Christ’s plan which brings blessing to the world and church. It’s given in ministry by blessing others in their need. Our Lord came as a suffering servant with a commitment to serve. When we fail to live as servants, we create a huge barrier to an effective ministry as representatives of Jesus Christ. We either decide to serve ourselves or learn to live as servants through our faith relationship with Christ. Stephen Ministers serve wholeheartedly, following in the example of Jesus. They humbly serve selflessly, sacrificing their time, agenda, and selfish motives as they pour out love, compassion, kindness, support, and grace to comfort and edify another. They don’t tell them what to do, but help them process, discover, and find out what God wants them to do for themselves.

How many of us want to do the unpleasant and lowly service of “washing feet?” But that is often the type of work which makes a difference. The doing of something you really don’t want to do for someone who needs it done for them. When was the last time you did a practical act of helping when all you wanted to do was stay home or go to bed early? “Washing feet” is merely going the extra mile for another’s benefit.

Being a servant isn’t being a doormat! It’s searching for people to serve for the love of Jesus, and doing it cheerfully. We are all most like God when we serve each other. What is God putting on your heart? In what areas of your life are you being called to serve – or be served? Perhaps through your role as spouse, parent, leader, Care Receiver, or Stephen Minister. What must you do, beginning today, to develop an authentic heart of God’s servant?

Church Life

Wednesday Nite Live Returns!

WNL dinner returns at 5:45pm followed by activities at 6:30pm. Hand sanitizer will be provided and the meal will be served. Sabbath Ground

By Angela T. !Khabele

This month, I chose to write about sabbath-keeping because I thought it could be a therapeutic activity that might even lead to firmer sabbath disciplines in my life. However, as I began to engage the topic, I quickly realized that my understanding of sabbath was largely superficial. I considered my sabbath day to be my day off — one that instantly filled with errands, housework, time with family and maybe a true-crime show on TV. My “day off” from church was actually a “day on” at home.

Clearly, sabbath means more than time away from our places of employment. During this past year, many of us have been in our homes and away from our jobs, but I doubt we’ve experienced much sabbath rest. Instead, this has been a stressful time for a host of reasons. So, I asked myself, “What was the primary intent for sabbath?”

God provides us with the original sabbath blueprint at creation, when God rests on the seventh day (Genesis 2:2-3). God also commands God’s people to honor the sabbath day and keep it holy (Exodus 20:8). What does this mean for us today? Is sabbath for prayer? Should sabbath time be reserved only for God? Self? Family? All of the above? Or is sabbath something else altogether?

Jesus tells us, “The sabbath was made for humankind, and not humankind for the sabbath” (Mark 2:27). Therefore, by Gospel definition, sabbath practices may vary from person to person. In fact, individuals may need different sabbath rituals for different times or situations in their lives.

There are times when I need sabbath from and times when I need sabbath to. Some of us need sabbath from negativity—news media, negative self-talk, toxic relationships, etc. Sometimes I need sabbath from the expectations of others, to have all the answers or to be the perfect wife, mother, pastor, etc. And we need sabbath to—sabbath to rest, to dream, to play, to write, to simply be.

If a sabbath day seems out of reach, perhaps sabbath moments are possible throughout the day. I wear a fitness tracker that reminds me to move around every hour. Maybe we could employ a similar approach to sabbath-keeping. Designate two minutes every hour to breathe deeply, pray quietly, listen to your favorite song, or engage in some activity that you find peaceful. This is a holy moment.

As our country searches for a new normal, we seem busier than ever. I hope that, while we move ahead, we will continue with the positive practices we gained over the past year, such as staying home more, driving less, developing innovative solutions and staying in touch with loved ones.

Clearly, I don’t have all of the answers, but I know this much is true: whatever brings you joy, gives you life and strengthens you to face another day—this is your sabbath activity.

The psalmist declares, “In [God’s] presence, there is fullness of joy” (Psalm 16:11). So, if something brings life-giving joy, God is in the midst of it. Dwell there, whether for an entire day or for two minutes every hour.

Find your sabbath ground and rest in it for a while. After all, the sabbath was made for you!

The Good Steward

By Mary Gandolfo

When Jacob awoke from his sleep, he thought, “Surely the LORD is in this place, and I was not aware of it.” He was afraid and said, “How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God; this is the gate of heaven.” Genesis 28:16 – 18 NIV

Have you ever gone into a building and had a very real sense of the sacred? I have. The most memorable was in Istanbul when I was blessed to visit the Hagia Sophia and the Blue Mosque. Although there was no furniture and the wall art would not lead you to believe it to be a Christian church, I was overwhelmed with the presence of God at the Hagia Sophia. In my mind’s eye, I could see the altar and priests, the pews and the people, the life and the sacredness of this space in vivid colors. The Blue Mosque was similar — although there were people and rugs on the floor. Scripture was being read and life was emanating from the whole place! It almost took my breath away. I felt as if God tapped me on the shoulder and smiled at me.

Hagia Sophia

When the LORD saw that he had gone over to look, God called to him from within the bush, “Moses! Moses!” And Moses said, “Here I am.” “Do not come any closer,” God said. “Take off your sandals, for the place you are standing is holy ground.” Exodus 3:4 – 5 NIV

WOW!!! If you had been Moses, would you have run or kept going? Honestly, I don’t understand the kind of faith Moses demonstrates to us here. I can think of many reasons not to go toward the bush. And then to be told, “Take off your shoes for this is holy ground.” I would start looking for hidden microphones. This time, the sense of the sacred was more obvious — you know — fire and voices obvious! I wonder if Moses had goose bumps or if the voice of God took his breath away! And this was just the first of many conversations with God. Have you ever had a “burning bush” moment? Has the presence of God ever completely left you awestruck and all you could do was listen and heed the words being spoken? I wish I could say yes to that, but the best I can come up with are the times I have sensed His presence and tried to hold onto that incredible moment.

When he was at the table with them, he took bread, gave thanks, broke it and began to give it to them. Then their eyes were opened and they recognized him, and he disappeared from their sight. They asked each other, “Were not our hearts burning within us while he talked with us on the road and opened the Scriptures to us?” Luke 24:30 – 32 NIV

The Good Steward is on the road with our Savior every day. We may not see burning bushes or dream about ladders with angels ascending and descending. But there is one thing I can claim: I have seen and felt the very real sense of the sacred in places as far away as Istanbul, Turkey, and as near as my back yard. My God is with me in each and every day — and He is with you, too. He is with you in the smile of a friend, the giggle of a child, the tear of one who is grieving, the joy expressed by a victor. He has promised us to be with us always, just as He promised in Matthew 28:20:

“And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.”

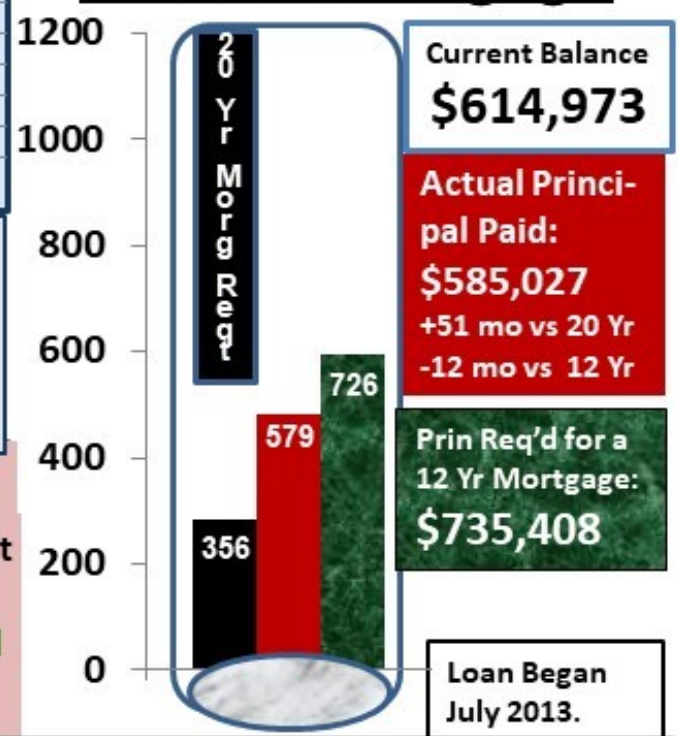

July 2021 Financials

KEY POINTS:

- ✦ Bottom Line: Operating Net Income for July was -$11K. Operating Net Income YTD through the end of July was -$28K. We have also been obliged to use $35K of our Reserves to hold our operating losses to "only" $28K and to pay for Capital expenses.
- ✦ General Offering and Income: Weekly Offering through July YTD was $225,657, net only -$5,831 against budgeted, thanks to a $21K gift in June. Total Income through July was $308,043, net -$94,388 against budgeted, as other income sources continue to lag. This is a major reason we have been obliged to start using Reserves and almost certainly will be using more. We are only down $63K Net through end July because council is wisely underspending.
- ✦ Building Fund: Bldg Fund Income through July was $55,874, net +$2,730 against our required mortgage, thanks to some one-time gifts.
- ✦ Going Forward: As we look forward, the loss of $94K in income so far resulting in $63K net loss in financial assets will have a definite down impact on our 2022 budget, barring additional income not currently known or projected.
